2019 NEW TECHNOLOGY

GET THE FACTS. NOT FICTION.

- 1 FACT Duty records automatically when the gun is drawn from the holster
- 2 It does not have an obstructed view when an officer is in a shooting position
- 3 It's easy and inexpensive for agencies to implement and manage
- 4 It can be used as an alternative to or supplement for Body Cams
- 5 1080p HD Video, Audio, password protected

REASONS FOR IMPLEMENTATION

"The FACT Duty gives us the coverage we need and fits our budget. We looked at Body Cams but their administrative requirements and data management made them impractical."

GARY KROELLS
WEST HENNEPIN
POLICE CHIEF

CAPTURE CRITICAL EVENTS

The FACT Duty Camera would have captured the view necessary to determine the reason the officer fired the weapon in nearly 90% of Officer Involved Shootings studied through 2017.

HOW FACT DUTY FILLS THE GAP

FACT DUTY: PROBLEM SOLVER

86%
CRUCIAL
EVIDENCE
CAPTURED

A FACT duty deployed in reviewed officer involved shooting incidents would have captured the critical view from the end of the firearm at least 86% of the time.

63%
BODY CAMS
FAILED TO CAPTURE
ADEQUATE DATA

Body cameras adequately capture the view necessary to evaluate the reason officers fire their weapons just 37% of the time.

71%
CRUCIAL ISSUE
IS WHY THE GUN
WAS FIRED

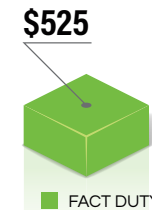

While body cams capture evidence prior to the officer's gun being drawn, in more than two-thirds of cases analyzed by the Viridian legal team, the events leading to the officer drawing the gun were not in question based on standard police practices, and the reason the officer actually fired the gun was the critical evidence in all such cases as well as in 93% of all reviewed incidents.

**Figures based on Viridian review and analysis of publicly available footage for Officer Involved Shooting incidents where body cameras were deployed by the involved law enforcement agency through 2017 (more than 150 incidents).
